GOAL

To write and produce a short film (maximum 15 minutes) on a topic related to the WoS Festival:

To present war from as many angles as possible, and to better understand its causes, consequences and human motives. The conflicts are real or imaginary implicating at least one State, real or imaginary (wars between nations, terrorist wars, civil wars, climate wars...).

The project can use all cinematographic genres (science-fiction, espionage, melodrama, comedy, etc.)

The plot, fictional, should take place in a contemporary or future timeframe, either during, before or after a war, as soon as the conflict conditions the behaviour of the characters.

PARTICIPANTS

AN OVERVIEW OF THE WOS FABRIQUE

The authors of the selected projects benefit from screenwriting coaching during three months, including two group sessions in October and December, in Champagne (France). Speaking and writing communication (script drafts) is held in English.

Only the authors of the scripts will take part in the first session (October), which is dedicated to screenwriting and the development of the storyline. The producers will join them for the second session, which goal is to finalise the stories and to discuss all relevant issues related to the production and financing of the short film.

CALL FOR PROJECTS

The call for projects is set up together with all partners and organised by them internally. The WoS team is in charge of the selection of 2 projects from each country (8 projects altogether, represented each time by an author-producer duo), partners acting in advisory capacity. All projects are written in English.

FINANCING

WoS Award : 20.000€ for French winner
